- David Ludlow, University of the West of England, Bristol

10:00 – 11:00 Panel discussion: Are digital tools changing cities for real?

This session will feature representatives of major European cities, including Vienna, Rome and Hamburg, sharing their hands-on experience with digital tools and platforms. The conversation, open to participation from the audience, will focus on the role digital tools and platforms can play in transforming local governance.

- Pamela Mühlmann, Urban Innovation Vienna
- Stefan Höffken, Landesbetrieb Geoinformation und Vermessung, City of Hamburg
- Franco La Torre, Risorse per Roma
- Paul McDonald, The Royal Borough of Kensington and Chelsea

Moderation: Ania Rok, ICLEI – Local Governments for Sustainability

11:00 – 11:30 Coffee break

11:30 – 12:30 Panel discussion: Smart, sustainable, open cities – synergy or conflict?

This session will bring together representatives of leading initiatives supporting cities in their transition to be smarter, more sustainable, better use the knowledge and skills of their citizens and make the most of the potential offered by digital tools and platforms, including JPI Urban Europe, EIP Smart Cities & Communities, EU Urban Agenda Digital Transition partnership and others. The question is how can these initiatives learn from each other to better support local dynamics, maximising synergies rather than confusion.

- Maria Sangiuliano, Smart Venice, EIP Smart Cities and Communities Citizen Focus Cluster
- Jonas Bylund, JPI Urban Europe
- Mika Rantakokko, BusinessOulu, EU Urban Agenda Digital Transition

Moderation: Leonardo Ebner, CEMR

12:30 – 13:00 Next steps for the Tallinn Declaration on e-Government
